

Fisheries Resource Monitoring Program

Kathleen Orzechowski, Office of Subsistence Management (907) 786-3645

The Office of Subsistence Management administers the Fisheries Resource Monitoring Program to fund technically sound projects that gather information to manage and conserve subsistence fishery resources in Alaska. The program also develops fisheries management expertise within Alaska Native and rural organizations and promotes collaboration among Federal, State, Alaska Native and local organizations. Up to $7 million is available annually to fund stock status and trends, harvest monitoring, and traditional ecological knowledge research related to management of Federal subsistence fisheries. The Fisheries Resource Monitoring Program encompasses awards made through both federal assistance and procurement instruments (contracts). A Call for Proposals is issued in November of each year on <http://www.grants.gov>.
